THE THEATERS

Starting Monday the Odeon theater will offer something new in moving pictures. It will be the animated singing pictures with the human voice, just perfected by the Imperial Motion Picture Company, of New York City, with which Manager Murray has closed an exclusive contract for this city. The title of the offering Monday is "In the Heart of a City That Has no Heart."

Today's screen offerings include "Cherry," a Vitagraph drama featuring Lillian Walker; "Whimsies," a Pathe comedy; and "A Fight on Deadwood Trail," by the Kalem company.

Izetta Jewell has returned to the Poli Stock Company in Washington, after a vacation.

"Peg o' My Heart," which will be seen at the Robinson Grand Friday, May 15, is still the reigning success at the Cort theater, New York, where it has established a new record for long runs in the metropolis. Up to this time this enviable record was held by Maude Adams with a consecutive run of 299 performances. "Peg o' My Heart" is now approaching its four hundredth performance and bids fair to remain in New York throughout the season.

The heroine of the play, "Peg," is a little girl of English and Irish parentage who finds herself in a family who have undertaken her education for the remuneration which they are to receive, by which they hope to maintain their position in society and keep up appearances.

Jean Havez and Fred Block have a new act called "A Day in Camp."

The Bijou program today is calculated to drive away all little blue devils, as it has a laugh every minute. There are five reels of fun and pleasure. Monday a Kalem two-part feature, "The Wiles of a Siren," will lead the list. Carlyle Blackwell and Leah Baird are the principal actors and a photo-play treat is in store for those who witness this dramatic masterpiece.

Cyril Scott, who won such sensational success in the stellar role of "The Prince Chap," "The Lottery Man," and "Royal Mounted," makes his motion picture debut in the production of the Famous Players Film Company, "The Day of Days," the famous novel by Louis Joseph Vance, one of the foremost novelists of the day. Cyril Scott is ideally cast in "The Day of Days" as a young book-keeper named Percival, whom Fate chooses as the central character in one of the strangest plots ever woven about the life of the metropolis. The story is an extravaganza of metropolitan adventure, and develops into a panorama of emotions, a kaleidoscopic drama with New York at night as a background.

A play by Owen Davis called "A Beggar on Horseback," was produced recently by a stock company in Hoboken.

The diplomatic service of Europe, with its atmosphere of spies, intrigues and beautiful women, is amply visualized in a coming two reel Reliance Mutual Movie, in which Courtenay Foote and Irene Hunt will have the leading roles. Frank E. Woods is author and Christy Cabanne producer.

The moving picture feature, "Inside of the White Slave Traffic," which was booked for May 18 at the Robinson Grand, has been cancelled because the producing company sold several of its films in Europe and had to rearrange some of its booking engagement. The promise is given, however, that the play will be booked here later.

Catherine Countess has closed her vaudeville tour to take a rest of a few weeks at her summer home in Denver. She will resume her tour early in September.

The next release of the Famous Players Film Company, scheduled for May 10, will be "A Woman's Triumph," adapted from Sir Walter Scott's greatest story, "The Heart of Midlothian," a tale that has been read and revered by millions. "A Woman's Triumph," enacted by the Famous Players Stock Company, of which Laura Sawyer plays the role of Jennie Deans, the lead, is a tale that lays bare the suffering heart and noble soul of a courageous woman, her inspiring sacrifice for truth and her ultimate triumph and reward.

The use of radium in a motion picture is a novelty which will be seen in the one reel detective drama from the pen of Russell E. Smith, "The Stolen Radium," which Director Jack Adolf has just completed as a Majestic Mutual Movie. It is the second of a series of detective dramas, the first of which will be "A Pair of Cuffs."

Cyril Maude will produce "Grumpy" in London and in the fall will return to this side to make a tour of the United States under the Liebler Company's management.

Edwin Mordant and his wife, Grace Atwell, have been engaged for a stock summer season in Waterbury, Conn. Mr. Mordant has just closed a successful engagement in New York with the "At Bay" company. He will act as stage director of the Waterbury company.

The Famous Players Film Company will shortly present Carlyle Blackwell in a four reel film version of the famous nautical comedy drama, "The Spitfire," by Edward Peple, the author of the current theatrical success, "A Pair of Sixes."

While the heart of the elephant is beating thirty times, that of a human is pulsating seventy.
